Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing to inform you that I will be retiring from my role as Headteacher of Queen Elizabeth High School at the end of this academic year.

After 34 years in teaching, I feel incredibly fortunate to have had such a rewarding career, with over half of that time spent in leadership roles. It has been an absolute privilege to serve as Headteacher of Queen Elizabeth High School since my arrival in 2019. During this time, I have had the pleasure of working alongside dedicated staff, supportive parents, and, most importantly, our fantastic pupils.

Together, we have achieved a great deal, and I am immensely proud of all that we have accomplished as a school community. The QEH family is truly special, and our shared commitment to “Caring, Learning and Leading” has been at the heart of everything we do.

I leave with full confidence that the good work of the school will continue to flourish. The next stage of leadership planning is securely in the hands of the Governing Body and the Local Education Authority, who will ensure a smooth transition and continued success for the school.

Thank you for your ongoing support during my time at Queen Elizabeth High School. It has been an honour to serve this community.

Yours sincerely,

Dave Williams
